“WE SET OUT TO CROSS BORDERS”

Foreign trade is not just about buying and selling goods — it’s about vision. When I founded Duga Home, my goal was not simply to create another trading company, but to build a trusted, strategic partner that connects businesses to the world. Today, seeing that vision come to life fills me with pride and motivates me to aim even higher.

At Duga Home, we don’t just move products — we move trust, effort, and ambition. We consider each of our clients as partners and walk alongside them as they strive toward global success. We simplify the complexities of import and export, offering integrated services in strategic consultancy, customs procedures, logistics, and supply chain management. Because we know that real success comes only with smart planning and strong collaboration.

While our core expertise is in the furniture sector, we work across various industries. Every new project, every new market we enter is more than just a transaction — it’s a bridge we build. We stay ahead of trends and adapt quickly to a constantly changing world. At Duga Home, we never stand still — we evolve. Because those who don’t grow, fall behind.

Today, Duga Home stands on the strength of an experienced team, a robust logistics network, and relationships built on trust. When I look ahead, I see a future where we empower even more brands to go global, contribute to Turkey’s strength in international trade, and continue writing an inspiring story.

To everyone who’s walked this path with us — thank you. Duga Home is not just my story — it’s a shared story of success that we’ve written together.
